Leadership Program Information

Thank you for your interest in becoming a Washington Wheat Ambassador. This program is sponsored by the Washington Association of Wheat Growers (WAWG) and is available to children of WAWG members living in Washington state. The program is designed to provide young adults with an excellent leadership and scholarship opportunity. It is also designed to increase the public's understanding of the wheat industry and how farming affects their daily life as consumers.

Two candidates will be selected as Washington Wheat Ambassadors. A $2,500 scholarship will be awarded to the top Ambassador, and a scholarship of $2,000 will be awarded to one alternate Ambassador. Both Ambassadors will be expected to participate in various activities and opportunities.

Term:

Washington Wheat Ambassadors are expected to make a 12 month commitment starting December 2020 and ending December 2021. There are some required activities scheduled throughout the year, most are in the winter months. Travel and meals will be compensated.

Required Event	Location	Date
WAWG annual dinner	Coeur d'Alene, Idaho	December 2, 2020
Advocacy trip	Olympia, Wash.	January 2021

In addition to the required events, Ambassadors are highly encouraged to take part in at least 2 other leadership opportunities. These events include, but are not limited to, Ag Expo, Kennewick and/or Spokane Farm Fair, and a hometown school presentation. We also invite the Ambassadors to take part in WAWG & WWF Board Meetings at the conclusion of the term.

Candidate Eligibility Requirements:

- Must be the child of a WAWG member living in Washington state
- Must be a high school senior with a cumulative 3.3 GPA or higher and who plans to attend a two or four year college immediately after high school
- Must be available to attend various activities throughout term
- Must have a genuine desire to promote agriculture and to help others better understand the value and importance of the industry

General Ambassador Responsibilities:

- Promote and represent the wheat industry at local, regional and state venues
- Network with and present to outside groups
- Actively participate in various face to face meetings and events

Benefits and Application Process

Benefits:

- Scholarship opportunity
- Opportunity to further develop confidence in leadership, communication and organizational skills
- Increased knowledge of the Washington wheat and grain industry

Application Process:

The Washington Wheat Ambassador Program coordinates the selection of candidates to ensure that a similar, fair and equitable process is followed. Applications must be sent to the WAWG office at 109 E. First Ave., Ritzville, WA 99169 postmarked no later than October 15, 2020.

Selection, State Banquet and Presentation Process:

An anonymous selection committee will judge all applications. The top two candidates will be notified of their selection as Washington Wheat Ambassadors by November 13, 2020.

The Ambassadors will then be required to attend the Washington Association of Wheat Growers' annual state dinner and awards banquet held on December 2nd, 2020 in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. The Ambassadors and their parents will be welcomed by their Ambassador Advisor and other Ambassador Program personnel, as well as wheat industry leaders.

Each Ambassador will be required to give up to a four minute speech on an agriculture-related topic of their choice at the banquet. At the conclusion of the banquet, the scholarships will be announced.

Thank you to our 2019-20 Washington Wheat Ambassadors!

Spencer Miller
Ritzville, WA

"This experience helped me express my love for both agriculture and politics. I am thankful for the opportunity of being selected as a Washington Wheat Ambassador."

Gunnar Aune
LaCrosse, WA

"Meeting with members of the Legislature gave a new perspective of what it takes to preserve what we are passionate about. I anticipate the opportunity to represent the wheat industry again in the near future."

INFORMATION AND RULES

Every Washington Wheat Ambassador becomes a representative of the highest ideals of the people of the Washington wheat industry. What is said or done is magnified many times, for good or bad. The simple rules listed below have been developed to make each Ambassador's task a pleasant one.

Along with the honor of being selected as a Washington Wheat Ambassador, there are certain obligations and rules to be followed.

1. Each Ambassador must be a senior in high school, no older than 19 years of age.
2. Entrant must never have been convicted of a misdemeanor or felony offense.
3. Public appearances, publicity, endorsements, gifts, photographs, etc. must have the specific approval of the Ambassador Program officials prior to any commitments.
4. While serving in official capacities, your activities and time will be organized by Ambassador Program personnel. Ambassadors and their family members will be expected to cooperate with Ambassador Program management, staff, advisors and designated persons in charge of official Ambassador activities. Official appearances by Ambassadors will be chaperoned.
5. While participating in the Washington Wheat Ambassador program there is a zero tolerance policy for illegal, inappropriate and/or unsuitable behavior.
6. Courtesy and respect should be practiced at all times. Ambassadors should model good behavior, act inclusively and demonstrate sound judgement. Our goal is to have a positive experience for the public and the Ambassadors. Ambassadors are highly visible and comments from the public reflect on them in particular and on the Washington Association of Wheat Growers as well as the entire agriculture industry.
7. The Ambassador Program will furnish a portion of the clothing required as an Ambassador. The Ambassadors are required to keep their professional wardrobe ready and available at all times. Clothing will be worn in the style determined by Ambassador Program personnel. The Ambassadors following successful completion of their responsibilities may keep clothing provided by the Ambassador Program.
8. Upon successfully completing the duties as an Ambassador, each Ambassador will receive their scholarships which will be sent to the educational institution of their choice and may be used for tuition as well as books. The scholarship must be used within the first year or must be returned to the Washington Association of Wheat Growers.
9. Ambassadors will also be required to assist with the 2021-2022 Ambassador Program slated for December 2021. Duties would include recruiting applicants and offering insight.
